

MODULE I

COMMUNITY HEALTH

HE/OS/CH/CC/01/5/MA

Apply Nutrition in Community Health

November/December 2025

SECTION A: (40 MARKS)

Attempt all questions in this section.

1. A public health officer is sent to a rural community to gather data for a nutrition assessment of children under five years old. List FOUR types of baseline data that should be collected for this population. (4 marks)
2. You are part of a team tasked with conducting a community nutrition assessment among adolescents in a peri-urban area. Mention any FOUR methods you would use to assess their nutritional status. (4 marks)
3. During a planning meeting, you are asked to draft a nutrition intervention plan for a community affected by food shortages. State FOUR essential components that should be included in the plan. (4 marks)
4. You are preparing for a community-based nutrition intervention but have limited funding and personnel. Outline FOUR ways in which you can mobilize resources to support the intervention. (4 marks)
5. Record four sources of data you would utilize during nutritional survey. (4 marks)
6. Your team is conducting a supplementary feeding program in an informal settlement using only local resources. State FOUR factors you would consider when carrying out this intervention under resource constraints. (4 marks)
7. A local NGO has asked you to identify indicators to help monitor food security in a drought-affected village. Record FOUR food security indicators. (4 marks)
8. In a health education session, community members inquire about what causes food insecurity in their area. List FOUR determinants of food security that you would explain to the group. (4 marks)

9. You are working in a nutrition clinic and asked to assist in screening clients for diet-related conditions. State FOUR common nutrition-related conditions that require community-level management. (4 marks)
10. You are advising a patient with hypertension on nutrition care at a rural health center. Advise on four nutritional management guidelines for this condition. (4 marks)

SECTION B: (60 MARKS)

Attempt any THREE questions in this section.

11. You are leading a nutrition team to assess the nutritional status of a flood-affected population.
- a) Explain SIX steps of conducting a full community nutrition assessment. (12 marks)
 - b) Examine FOUR ways in which findings from the assessment can inform future nutrition interventions in that community. (8 marks)
12. Your organization has received funding to implement community based nutrition interventions targeting pregnant and lactating women in a remote village.
- a) Describe any FIVE high impact nutrition interventions you will implement (10 marks)
 - b) Explain FIVE roles of social mobilization and advocacy in increasing community participation in this programme. (10 marks)
13. The county government is concerned about rising food insecurity in semi-arid areas and requests for your input as a nutritionist.
- a) Analyze FOUR ways in which food and nutrition security can be assessed in this region. (8 marks)
 - b) Identify and explain FOUR stakeholders and their roles in food security response. (12 marks)
14. You are managing a nutrition program for adults with diabetes and hypertension in a community clinic.
- a) Explain FOUR stages of the nutrition care process applied to chronic disease management.

(12 marks)

- b) Using diabetes as an example, describe how therapeutic nutrition is planned and applied for effective disease control. (8 marks)